Why The World Is Sick

Reviewing all that the world has passed through in the years 1914 to 1931, considering the deplorable state of affairs existing in the world today, and, at the beginning of a new year, looking into the immediate future, one would expect all people, of all races, nationalities, languages and creeds, who possess an atom of intelligence and a modicum of commonsense to solemnly vow "Never again."

During the frightful years of human anguish and suffering of the world war people were sustained, even uplifted, by the hope, the oft-expressed declaration, that it was a war to end all war; that, when the strife and agony was ended, a new and brighter day would dawn for this old world, the commencement of an era of happiness, progress and prosperity unparalleled in the history of mankind. Buoyed up with these hopes, inspired by this bright vision, people labored and sacrificed and suffered confident that their children and children's children through generations to come would reap the benefit.

But disillusionment has come. The nations of the world were not purified in the fires of war; the selfishness and greed of man were not consumed. The huge debts which the war imposed on each nation are crushing the people, but instead of a willingness to mutually and amicably adjust these burdens, or, as there should be, a keen anxiety to do so, with the strong helping the weak, the nations with war-like ferocity seem bent on making the "otherfellow" pay to the last farthing. Like Shylock of old, they demand their pound of flesh, caring not that thereby all are headed toward the abyss of destruction.

And individuals, like nations, display the same selfishness, and even greater greed. For the losses they sustained during the war, they seem determined to recoup themselves. Full and exorbitant payment they are demanding for the allegedly patriotic sacrifices they made during the war period. They apparently care not that such payment to them means ruin to others, and they short-sightedly forget that with the ruin of these others loss must inevitably fall upon themselves.

And so, nearly a decade and a half after the joyful announcement of the armistice and the coming of the long hoped for peace, there is as much suffering throughout the world as during the war years, possibly less in some countries but much more in others. The same great wealth of natural resources, provided by a benign Providence, exists; the needs and desire of man are as great as ever; the means are at hand to utilize the one to meet the requirements of the other. But wilful, selfish man says "No." He refuses to consent to anything to help his fellow man, but selfishly thinks only of self, and demands that all others shall help him while he holds back the aid he might extend.

Thus each nation builds economic barriers against all other nations; each is at war with all others in an attempt to out-manoeuvre them, to make progress while all others decline. And so all suffer, not one is making progress, all are on the decline. Again, what is true of nations, is true of individuals. One industry makes demands for itself alone regardless of the effect on other industries, forgetting that if these others suffer, it, too, must suffer; if they perish, it, also, must die.

The world war to end all war failed in its object. War rages today between the nations as never before. It is a world war, more embracing in fact than the colossal struggle of 1914-1918. It is being fought by different methods, that is all. It is piling up national debts higher than ever; it is steadily, even rapidly, increasing the burdens of taxation; it is destroying trade and commerce; it is making men, women and children naked, and cold and hungry. The Great War did provide employment for all; the present economic world war has thrown millions out of employment, and the number steadily increases. It is undermining the health and the morale of countless thousands of people.

The picture is a dark, a gloomy one. It is, however, futile to delude ourselves. It is idle to cry peace, peace, when there is no peace. The only salvation for the world is a return to sanity. The world is just what the people of the world make it. If they insist on fighting each other, whether in a physical or economic sense, why fight they will. But in seeking and striving to destroy they most assuredly cannot build up and prosper. The world must turn from its present ways before it can recover from its sickness. It is not a shortage of gold, nor over-production, nor even present indebtedness that is the trouble. It is the people and their prevailing outlook on life, their individual and narrow nationalistic selfishness that is the root cause of the world's sickness and depression.

Difficult To Understand

Why People Get Any Enjoyment Out Of Gossip

Of all the vices on earth the one that is the most difficult to understand is the vice of gossip. For most crimes we can find some explanation; for gossip there is no explanation except depravity or insanity. How people can find enjoyment in making life hard for others is one of the eternal mysteries. The slanderous activity of malicious tongues has caused more havoc in the world than any other one viciousness.

Lumber Trade Improving

Shipments From British Columbia Showing Big Increase

The lumber trade of British Columbia is picking up noticeably. For the first nine months of the current year business with Australia has been greater than at any time since 1927, with exports running to 33,459,290 feet compared with 29,948,278 feet for the whole of the year 1930. Shipments to China have also been quite large, at 40,290,791 feet for the nine months against 46,924,743 feet for the whole of 1930. Japan's purchases to date amount to 33,000,000 feet.

Receive Repeat Orders

Trial shipments of British Columbia tomatoes from Kamloops to Hong Kong, made with the co-operation of the provincial authorities, have resulted in repeat orders for the product, it is announced by Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture. The initial shipment sold readily and at satisfactory prices.

Idea Is Not New

Psychologist Believes Murder Preventible By Detecting Criminal Type Early

Murders may be prevented in the near future by the recognition and treatment of the types likely to commit major crimes.

This is the belief of Miss Alice Raven, a leading London psychologist, who has made an exhaustive study of the most famous murder cases of present years.

"In all cases of murder I have investigated," she told a newspaper representative, "I have found a definite psychological similarity in the murderers.

"Murderers are almost invariably introverts with a sense of hostility towards the world, probably due to an inferiority complex, and they have frequently no power of self-expression.

"Their creative faculties are bottled up within them, and this repression leads to a desire for violence.

"More research is needed on this point, but I am inclined to think that the murderer is a man who has a memory of cruelty in childhood to work off.

"My studies of murder cases and criminal mentality show that murder is only committed under certain definite conditions, and I am convinced that trained psychologists will ultimately be able to recognize the type, even in childhood, likely to commit major crimes, and the social services will take them in hand."

Canadian Ports Cheaper

Cattle Exporter Sends Shipment Of American Mules From Quebec

The possibility that Canadian ports will be used in future in preference to American ports as a shipping centre for cattle and horse shipments to Europe was foreseen at Quebec by William R. Rowe, leading United States cattle exporter, who was supervising the loading of twenty-eight sample head of American mules consigned to the Italian Government for army purposes, chiefly in connection with artillery.

The animals were sent across on the freighter "Hanover," which vessel also carried a capacity cargo of 226,000 bushels of grain for Hamburg. When asked why he had chosen Quebec as the shipping port, Mr. Rowe said he found that even with the longer rail haul to a Canadian port transportation costs were reduced considerably, resulting from a much lower cost of Canadian feed. The exporter, who crossed to Europe in charge of the shipment, expressed the opinion that the movement of these animals through Canadian ports would increase in the future, meaning that a trade which previously had gone entirely through United States harbors now will be deflected to the ports of Quebec and Montreal during summer months, and St. John, N.B., in the winter season.

Newest Excuse For Passing Traffic Light

A'abama Negro Said He Thought It Was Christmas Decoration

Two long-eared farm mules driven by an aged negro pulled a rattling wagon past a red traffic light in Montgomery, Alabama.

Traffic became paralyzed. Motorists shouted; horns tooted in swelling bedlam.

"Hey, you," roared policeman W. H. Collier, trying bravely to untangle the snarl, "didn't you see that red light?"

"Yas, suh, boss, I seed it long 'fore I got here," the old negro replied with a disarming grin. "I been watchin' it flash red and green as I driv' up the street. Ain't no tellin' what you city folks gwine do next for Christmas decorations."

So saying, the aged one clucked to his mules and was on his way, still grinning.

Strangled With Asthma is the only expression that seems to convey what is endured from an attack of this trouble. The relief from Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is beyond measure. Where all was suffering there comes comfort and rest. Breathing becomes normal and the bronchial tubes completely cleared. This unequalled remedy is worth many times its price to all who use it.

Orders Entire Honey Crop

A large shipment of honey has been made by J. Mackison, of Hayfield, Manitoba, to eastern Canada. After demonstrating the quality of his honey by being a consistent winner at the Toronto Royal Fair, Mr. Mackison obtained an order from one of the Toronto departmental stores, and the company has now placed an order for Mr. Mackison's entire crop.

According to press reports Central Asia is fomenting with unrest and general fighting is raging all along the Indian Northwest Frontier Province. Lord Willingdon, Viceroy of India (above), is said to have asked for 30,000 troops to quell the disturbance.

Ends Long Journey

Young Man Went Round World In Small Boat

William Albert Robinson, the young man from Lowell, Mass., who in 1928 set out from New York with the set purpose of circumnavigating the globe in a thirty-two-foot ketch named the "Svaap" (Sanskrpit for "Dream"), brought the same slim ship into the dock of the fireboats at the Battery and thus, after three years and five months of sailing, brought his journey to an end.

Robinson said he had visited more than 400 ports; had sailed more than 30,000 miles; once had nearly been run down by a steamship; had been captured in the Red Sea by Arabian pirates; had seen volcanoes and waterspouts; had seen whales and frigate birds and albatross; had listened to the drums of the Samoans; had drunk kava, had chewed betel; had tasted the durian; had heard many strange tales, and had made many friends.

During the nearly three and a half years he encountered almost everything but shipwreck. In the Atlantic, the ship had run into seas so high that the "Svaap" had all but stood on end; in the immense Pacific he had been becalmed; he had been through the treacherous coral reefs among the Society group; he had sailed the Bay of Bengal when the sea was as smooth as a sheet of beaten silver.

Robinson spoke with enthusiasm of his little ketch. "I am convinced," he said, "that one would go far to find a better type of small boat for ocean cruising."

From the masts of the weather-beaten vessel flew the pennant of the Douglaston, Queens, Yacht Club and a tattered American flag. He had found the boat, he said, in a yard in Rye. It had been built in 1925 in the yard of John Etherington, of Shelbourne, Nova Scotia, was 32 feet 9 inches in length at water line; had a beam of 9 feet 6 inches, and a draft of 5 feet 6 inches, a jib-headed ketch with rather stumpy masts. He had added a square sail of 330 square feet on a 16-foot yard. The "Svaap" had been fitted with a 6-8 horsepower Kermath engine so that in smooth water he had been able to make six knots. The boat's tonnage was 11.6 tons gross, 10.2 tons net.

Manitoba Not Changing Auto License Tax

But Owners In Saskatchewan Pay Five Dollars More

Licenses for motor cars in Manitoba will cost no more for 1932 than this year, and the registration fee will continue to be the same, inquiries at the legislative buildings disclosed.

No change is contemplated in Manitoba. In Saskatchewan citizens will be called upon to pay $5 more for licenses than do owners of motor cars in Manitoba.

Licenses in Manitoba range from $9 to $35 in cost, depending on the length of the wheelbase of the car. Registration of motor vehicles other than trucks and trailers cost $9 for cars not exceeding 100 inches in the length of the wheelbase, and $2.50 for every additional five inches in the wheelbase.

It Will Relieve a Cold.—Colds are the commonest ailments of mankind and if neglected may lead to serious conditions. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will relieve the bronchial passages of inflammation speedily and thoroughly and will strengthen them against subsequent attack. And as it eases the inflammation it will usually stop the cough because it allays the irritation in the throat. Try it and prove it.

Something To Think About

Exchange Is the Result Of Centuries Of Experience

It is the duty of everyone in these days to study the great questions of the distribution of wealth and of what constitutes wealth. Pick up any odd bit of wealth that happens to be at your hand and think about it in a vein similar to that in which I have been thinking—for instance, about the collar I am wearing. I bought it in London, England, for one shilling and was told it was made in Leicester, with machinery from Germany, America, and Scotland, from with flax grown in Russia. Half the world has been involved in the exchange that has been operating to provide a small thing like that.

Further, through the intricate machinery of credit, banking, and finance, a portion of the shilling I paid in London has in some marvellous way helped to provide a peasant in Russia with a cup of tea from China.

What is the very essence of this everyday wonder, the result of centuries of experience, if not exchange? And still there are people who imagine that wealth can be increased by putting obstacles in the way of exchange.

These barriers exist not only between but just as much inside the countries. Only a free and unhampered exchange will enable us to carry on our work with equality one with the other, thereby raising the standard of life for all. There was never a time when freedom of trade was more wanted and the preaching of free trade more necessary. Why buy "Empire Goods"? Why Canada for the Canadians. Australia for the Australians, and so on the world over, until you finally get bromley for the Bomleyans? To be logical, I should at last buy nothing but my own goods.—Sir Ernest J. P. Benn.

One Taxicab Driver Wont Accept a Tip

Conscience Tells Him It Is Against a Law Made In 1853

There is one taxicab driver in London, England, with a conscience. He refuses to take tips because he says they are illegal and is willing to prove it.

J. N. Brightman, writing in the latest issue of the "Taxi World," states that "it will come as a surprise if not a shock to many cabmen to know that the acceptance of a tip by a taxicab driver is a punishable offence under the London Carriage Act of 1853.

"According to the abstract," he continues, "any driver of a hackney carriage who shall demand or take more than the proper fare shall be liable to penalty not exceeding $10 for each offence, or in default of payment, imprisonment."

Not only does Brightman believe that a driver's self respect is lowered when he accepts a tip but that many people, especially women, do not take cabs because of the possible abuse on account of their tips.

After tabulating the amount collected from 225 rides, Brightman estimates that cabmen would get more business if the present "flag pull" of twelve cents was raised to a quarter and tips abolished.

Largest and Tiniest Christmas Puddings

One Six Tons and One Under Quarter Ounce

The smallest Christmas pudding in the world, made entirely of British Empire produce and weighing less than a quarter of an ounce, has been exhibited side by side with a mammoth 16-ton plum pudding at the Royal Albert Hall, London, England.

The tiniest pudding is 1 inch in diameter and weighs 196 grains. It was especially made for the Christmas market in aid of the People's Dispensary for the Sick Animals of the Poor.

The assistance of a mathematician and a chemist were required to work out and weigh the various ingredients.

The 13 ingredients had to be chopped many times before they were sufficiently fine.

A New Automatic Engraver

Photographs are etched on zinc by a steel stylus in an automatic engraver, recently demonstrated, which speeds up engraving work and reduces costs. Lights and shadows on the photo are cast on a photo-electric cell by two small lights. An electrical arrangement causes the lights and shadows in the cell to move the stylus, tracing the photograph on a sheet of zinc. The machine eliminates the necessity of rephotographing pictures on metal to produce an engraving, as well as chemicals and finishing processes.

Discoveries Confirm Report

Geological Mapping Of Manitoba Area Indicated Gold Deposits

The discoveries of gold made recently in the Island Lake area of northern Manitoba would appear to confirm the views expressed by Dr. J. F. Wright in the summary report issued by the geological survey, Department of Mines, Ottawa, following the geological mapping of that area in 1927, according to a brief statement issued from the Department of Mines, Ottawa. The statement continues:

"Commenting on the mineral possibilities of the district, Dr. Wright, who paid a further visit to the area during the past summer, states that the geology indicates areas of rock similar to those wherein commercial mineral deposits have been discovered elsewhere within the Canadian shield. Consequently, it is pointed out, the area is one that should be prospected carefully. Favorable rock conditions extend over a large belt and a great deal of intensive, systematic prospecting will be necessary before the mineral possibilities can be evaluated."

Won War Against Speeders

But Duke Of Marlborough Had To Use Drastic Method

The Duke of Marlborough has won his war against the speed-hogs on his estate.

Some weeks ago, personally in convenienced by the speeding of motorcars through the private roads of his estates at Blenheim Park, he adopted a novel, if somewhat drastic method of preventing fast driving.

He had two "bumps" built into the roadway near Blenheim Palace, with the result that motorists taking the corner at speed received a timely reminder of their sins.

Speaking recently, the Duke of Marlborough, who had previously expressed his determination to stamp out speeding through his estate, which is noted for its beauty spots, stated that his methods had resulted in the return of normal motoring.

Airplane Scene Of Wrestling Match Between Tiger and Trainer

A wrestling match between a tiger and his trainer in an aeroplane flying over the English Channel from France was reported by the London Star.

The tiger was said to have broken out of a large wooden cage and started grappling with his caretaker—his customary circus act. Fearing the location was hardly suitable for such an act, the trainer dashed into the cage with the beast clinging to him and closed the door.

They made the rest of the journey apparently in perfect harmony. The pilot and his mechanic were ignorant of the events occurring in the cabin behind them.

Confidence In French Premier

Premier Pierre Daval won a vote of confidence from the Chamber of Deputies after his government had been defeated on a technical detail in connection with France's policy toward the unemployment. A Socialist motion which would have increased aid to the jobless was made a question of confidence by the Premier, and the Chamber upheld him 316 to 257.

Oldest Member Of Salvation Army In Canada Called Home

Mrs. Elizabeth Beare, Of the Salvation Army, Passes Away At the Good Old Age Of 104 Years

Mrs. Elizabeth Bear, 104, oldest member of the Salvation Army in Canada, died at her home in Cobourg, Ontario, on Sunday, December 20.

She was born at Cornwall, England, in 1827. Her father died when she was seven, and her mother brought her and her sister to Cobourg, Ont. The voyage across the Atlantic took five weeks, and once, when the ship was caught in the ice, the passengers spent 22 hours on the edge of an iceberg.

Mrs. Beare, or Elizabeth Sandy as she then was, married John Newton, a sailor, when she was 18. He was drowned six years later, leaving her with three children. Six years later she married William H. Beare. He was accidentally killed, and left her with four more children.

Four of her children and 67 grandchildren and great-grandchildren are scattered around the world.

Berlin Adds Mail Lines

It Now Has the Largest Pneumatic System In the World

With the opening of the new extension to Tempelhof Flying Field, Berlin's pneumatic mail lines exceed 220 miles in length. They constitute the largest network of its sort in the world, having nearly 100 stations, and in the last fiscal year having distributed in the city more than 4,000,000 pieces of mail, whereof 3,327,800 were ordinary pneumatic letters and postcards, and 757,000 were special delivery letters. Also they delivered during the year 3,063,000 telegrams.

Like all lines constructed within recent years, the new Tempelhof pneumatic tube is two-tracked, and embodies all the latest technical improvements. It will shoot mail through at higher speed.

U.S. Railway Heads Agree On Wage Cut

Will Notify Union Brotherhoods Of Proposed 15 Per Cent. Reduction

More than 100 presidents and executives of class one railroads agreed to serve a 30-day notice on union brotherhoods of termination of present wage contracts and of an intention to cut wages 15 per cent. under the terms of the Railway Labor Act.

It was agreed, however, that if the committee of nine representing the three sectional groups — eastern, western and southern—reaches an agreement with the railroad brotherhoods, the notice of intention to reduce wages 15 per cent. will be cancelled automatically.

Development Of Canada's Resources Since War Shows Expansion Not Dreamed Of

Available figures of the decennial census of Canada (1931) leave no room for doubt that the population now exceeds 10,000,000. The census of 1921 showed a total of 8,788,483. From 1906 to 1915 inclusive more than 2,500,000 immigrants entered the country. Great Britain and the United States were the chief sources. Since the World War the tide has fallen off. Modern Canada may be said to date from 1867, when the Dominion was formed by the union of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec (Lower Canada) and Ontario (Upper Canada). Two years later the Northwest Territories were purchased from the Hudson's Bay Company, and in 1870 Manitoba was organized out of the new lands. It was not until 1871 that British Columbia, and 1873 Prince Edward Island, joined the Dominion. The population in 1871 was 3,435,761. In 1880 the islands and districts within the Arctic Circle came under the jurisdiction of the Dominion. Newfoundland and the Labrador Coast still remain outside. Canadian must be thought of as more than 80 per cent. British and French in origin. The area of the Dominion is 3,684,723 square miles, 3 per cent. greater than that of the United States and Alaska, and only 2 per cent. smaller than the area of Europe.

Since the World War the development of Canada's resources has given promise of an expansion not dreamed of at the beginning of the century. Her wheat lands produce ever larger crops. She has become the second largest gold producer in the world. Including buildings and machinery, agricultural resources were valued at $7,978,633,000 in 1929. In 1929-30, gold production was $39,840,722. The total will be exceeded in 1931. Copper produced in 1929 was worth $43,411,032 and nickel $27,115,443. In the Diamond Jubilee year, 1927, Canada produced 90 per cent of the world's nickel, 85 per cent. of its asbestos, 55 per cent. of its cobalt. Pitchblende, a base of radium, has lately been discovered in the Great Bear Lake district in rich veins. The future of the mineral industry in Canada is so full of promise that optimistic forecasts no longer appear extravagant.

Her lumber industry and her pulp and paper industry employ many thousands. The value of the fisheries in 1929 was $53,518,521. Canada's export trade is of great importance to a people engaged in the production of commodities and materials in excess of consumption. Henry Laureys, a leading French authority, finds the Canadians backward in the mechanisms of foreign trade, but predicts for them a growing share of it. "The whole Dominion," he says, "will benefit thereby and its prosperity increase."—New York Times.

Muskrats Becoming Menace In Europe

Have Invaded Britain and Cause Great Damage To Crops

Muskrats imported from America into Europe are becoming a menace, and officials of several countries say they are powerless to stop the animals' depredations.

Five which were released near Prague, Czecho-Slovakia, 25 years ago, have resulted in a population of 100,000,000 spread over central Europe.

The army of rodents is invading Britain and is causing great damage to crops. In Scotland muskrats have become so numerous that officials say their eradication is impossible.

They have burrowed into the banks of the Allan River and the safety of the famous curling lock at Carse Breck is threatened.

Death Duties Hit Harcourt Family

Nuneham Park, Lord Harcourt's estate, within six miles of Oxford, is to be sold because death duties have been extracted from the Harcourt family three times in what would normally have been considered one generation.

The event, however, is one of some irony, for the introducer of the death duties was Sir William Harcourt himself, the most illustrious member of this illustrious family. They were included in his budget of 1894.

Britain's cost-of-living figure is 4[illegible] per cent. above that of 1914.

New Canadian Wheat Pool Head

Hutchinson, Alberta, Brodt, Manitoba, Also Named

Louis Brouillette of Landis, Sask., is to head the central board of the Canadian Wheat Pool for 1932, according to an announcement from pool headquarters. Mr. Brouillette, recently named president of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, succeeds the late A. J. McPhail, as president of the central board.

Lou Hutchinson, of Duhamel, Alberta, is the new vice-president, succeeding Henry Wise Wood, president of the Alberta Pool, of which Mr. Hutchinson is vice-president. With Mr. Brouillette and Mr. Hutchinson on the central board executive is Paul F. Bredt, president of the Manitoba Wheat Pool, C. H. Burnell, former president of the Manitoba Pool, was the executive's third member for 1931.

Other members of the 1932 control board are: C. H. Burnell and W. T. A. Gourley, for Manitoba; G. H. Wesson and Brooks Catton, for Saskatchewan; and C. Jensen and Ben Plumer for Alberta. Announcement of the personnel of the new board was made by W. A. McLeod, publicity director for the Canadian pool, Mr. Brouillette and Mr. Plumer are like the only new members of the board.

The central board of the Canadian pool is concerned with the disposal of wheat delivered by pool members prior to the end of the last crop year in July, 1931. Since that time, each of the three prairie pools has handled its own marketing arrangements.

May Amalgamate Forces

Alberta Police Likely To Join Royal Canadian Mounted

A special despatch to the Edmonton Journal from Ottawa says:

"Negotiations which have been in progress for a long time, looking to an amalgamation of the Alberta Provincial Police with the R.C.M.P., are nearing a conclusion. Though officially no agreement has yet been reached it is understood that things are fast shaping up towards one.

"Alberta thus would be policed under Federal supervision as is Saskatchewan. In the province, the Mounted Police force numbers 150 and that of the province about 200. The plan is to join the two together under the R.C.M.P. There would be little dislocation. Several on each force are at the pensionable age while by stopping recruiting, the absorption process would be expedited.

"Definite development is looked for soon after the New Year. Alberta Government officials refused to comment on the report of police changes.

Wolves Raid Barnyard

Farmer Wins Race With Hungry Wolf Pack

Packs of wolves raided a farmyard and chased a farmer for several miles through the bush in the Parry Sound district of Ontario recently.

The farmyard raid was carried out in daylight. Fred Hare returned home to find his family shut in the house, several of his sheep injured and two of them missing. Wolves had invaded the yard, seized two sheep and carried them away, his wife said.

Gus Adams, Carling farmer, won a race with wolves when his two horses carried him to the door of his house just ahead of the snarling pack. Adams threw from his wagon a quarter of beef to slow up the fast-gaining wolves.

Commission To Study Lynching

There is in the southern part of the United States a "Commission for the Study of Lynching" composed of distinguished men, colored and white, and this body has compiled its report for 1930. Twenty-one men were lynched during the year and the report is that at least two of these were certainly innocent, while in half of the remaining cases there was "real doubt of guilt." Eleven of the twenty-one were illiterates and some of them half-wits. In mob killings it too often happens that the first person who comes under suspicion is rushed to his death.

Alberta Wells Depth Limited

Regulations prohibiting drilling of wells in the main producing area of Turner Valley have been issued by the provincial government. Wells may be drilled to the sand overlying the limestone, where production is generally obtained, but must not penetrate the lime. It is likely that oil men will meet soon to discuss the regulation. Operators said that in view of conservation steps the regulation would probably be fully enforced.

No Objection To British Coal Imports

Any Increase Would Not Be Opposed By Mines Department

There should be no objection to increased imports of British anthracite coal into Canada, officials of the Mines Department here, said in commenting on a London cable in which it was forecast that this subject would be on the agenda of the forthcoming Imperial Conference. The problem in the past, it was stated, was the difficulty in profitably bringing British coal to Canada because of the lack of return cargoes for the coal carrying vessels. It was also suggested that there would be more storage space required on this side if the imports were to be increased.

Imports of British coal have been slowly increasing in the past few months. The figures for British coal imports of all kinds for the three months ended October last, were: August, 101,216 short tons; September, 109,364, and October, 165,576.

Coal imports from all sources during the 12 months ended October last were 13,695,379 tons of which 1,032,838 tons were from the United Kingdom, and the balance from the United States.

Carnegie Fellowships Will Be Awarded

Ten Canadian Students To Be Selected Next Year

The Royal Society of Canada has completed arrangements under which ten Canadian students will be selected during 1932 for the first award of $1,500 travelling fellowships provided by the Carnegie corporation. The society has been granted $15,000 yearly for five years for this purpose.

The conditions are flexible and the fellowships are open to men and women alike up to the age of 32. Applicants must have a master's degree or its equivalent, and preferably have completed one or more year's work beyond that degree.

The fellowships are tenable at institutions of learning or research and are available for advanced research in literature, history, archaeology, sociology, political economy and allied subjects in French or English, and in mathematics, chemistry, physics, geology, biology or subjects associated with these sciences.

Lawrence J. Burpee is secretary of a board which will receive applications and pass upon their merit.

Kaiser Was Outwitted

Lost Prize Pig As Well As Purchase Price

How former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany lost a prize British pig in a complicated series of events has been revealed. During the spring of 1914 the Kaiser wanted a prize British pig for his Potsdam piggeries. The pig was purchased at Somerset and started for Germany, but the Great War broke out and the pig was interned as a prisoner. Then for three years, with a blue ribbon around its neck and a collection box on its back, the Kaiser's prize pig collected money for the British Red Cross. One dark night a zeppelin dropped bombs in Norfolk and the poor pig was killed. Came the peace and the ex-Kaiser wanted his pig or his money back. His agent filed a claim with the enemy debts tribunal in London. The tribunal said "O.K." but the Somerset farmers who sold the pig sent in a bill for maintaining the prize pig for three years.

Maybe It Is

The Farmers Advocate describes agriculture as "a combination of all sciences." Perhaps it is. when the farmer is kicked by a horse, he sees stars and becomes an astronomer. When he is kicked by the wheat market, he sees mortgages and becomes a mathematician.

In Abnormal Times

Price Of Hogs Twenty Dollars More During War Years

Hogs have been selling at $4.20 which was a common price during the last ten years of the 19th century or between the years 1890 and 1900. It is twenty dollars less than it was during third year of the Great War. Ten good hogs in those days would bring a farmer four hundred to five hundred dollars. Now he receives less than $90 for the same number of hogs. Now he can buy a suit of clothes for $25 that would have cost him $50 during the war years. But those were abnormal times which we do not wish to see again, and these times are abnormally hard, and may never return after the economic organization of the Empire.

Had Man-Eating Crab

Strange Pet Of Sailors Brought From Bering Sea

When the S.S. San Gabriel, transporting lumber and canned goods from the Pacific Coast, arrived at the Albany airport, sailors displayed a giant man-eating crab which they had caught in the Bering Sea, off Alaska.

The crab measured eight inches long and weighed eight pounds. They are captured in frequent numbers by Japanese, who can them.

Slim Margin Of Comfort

Students of mathematics will be interested in the report from Boston that a king snake five feet ten inches long swallowed a boa constrictor five feet six inches long. The four inches difference is believed to be the margin of comfort about which sociologists talk.

Story Of Shooting Told In Note By Boy

Think Alberta Youth Shot Mother and Sister In Sudden Flare Of Anger

A boy's tribute to his mother and father as "the best parents a kid could have" and confession of the slaying of his mother and sister were bared by police in investigation of the triple deaths on a Rumsey farm recently.

Scribbled on the back of an envelope, Robert Tolman, 16, who killed his mother, Mrs. D. G. Tolman, and his six-year-old sister, Teresa, and then took his own life, left the following note:

"I shot Mum and Teresa — I must have been mad. Robert." Immediately underneath was written this: "I'll be dead when you see them in the cellar. You have been the best parents a kid could have."

Mrs. Barber, a neighbor, found the note in Robert's pocket as she undressed him to put him in bed to await the arrival of a doctor after he had shot himself. Robert died before the doctor arrived.

Although the holeHETSHCMCMM

Although the note explained the shooting, police continued seeking a motive for the slaying. Refusal to attend a Christmas party at Rumsey district, as a possible cause. He said Robert was anxious to attend the party, but permission had been refused. It was thought the boy may have lost his temper and shot his mother and sister in anger.

Doubt was raised in the examination of the body of Mrs. Tolman that she had been shot. A wound, which appeared to have been made by a blunt instrument, was found at the base of the skull, which had been fractured. Towels tied around her head indicated she had been suffocated after being knocked unconscious.

Work On Beaver Lake Road Nearing Completion

Seven Miles Of Road From Flin Flon End Is Now Suitable For Automobile Traffic

Work on the Beaver Lake Road connecting Flin Flon, Manitoba, with the Beaver Lake gold claims, is nearing completion.

Seven miles of the road from the Flin Flon end are already completed to a standard suitable for automobile transportation, while the balance of the road is finished to a standard that loaded wagons an travel, though it is still too rough for motor transportation. Two objects prompted the construction of the road. First, with a view to opening up transportation into the Beaver Lake gold field, where the Amisk Lake Gold Syndicate of London, England, has indicated its intention of shipping in machinery for the development of the area, and, second, to make access possible to the large timber area south of the lake.

Money Market For Canada Is Discussed

Dominion Would Then Be Independent Of New York Bankers

Sir Charles Gordon, president of the Bank of Montreal, and other leading bankers met the Prime Minister in his office and discussed the establishment of a Canadian money market which would relieve the depreciation of the Canadian dollar in the New York market.

It was stated that the establishment of an exchange market in Montreal would help the Dominion to declare its monetary independence of New York bankers, who are now the controlling factors in setting the price of the Canadian dollar.

An authority has advised that if Canadian drafts and cables on London were handled directly from Canada and not through New York, the Canadian dollar would be selling in New York today at 90 cents, instead of 81 cents.

From Churchill to Liverpool via the Hudson Bay route, the distance is 2,936 miles.

"Accelerodrome" Suggested For Experiments For Greater Speed In Airplane Flights

In the belief that man has not yet reached anything like the speed at which he is capable of travelling, Louis Bleriot, veteran pilot and aircraft builder, suggests that high-speed experiments be conducted in what he calls an accelerodrome.

This would involve an elevated circular track around which a propeller-driven body, or fuselage, may whirl while attached by cable to the track. Centrifugal force would keep such a body aloft and there would be no danger to human life because the fuselage need not have an occupant.

Bleriot recently turned over to the Aero Club of France a magnificent cup as a trophy for the man who first reaches a speed of 1,000 kilometers, or 620 miles, an hour. This need not necessarily be done in an aeroplane, but he believes such speed can only be approached with reasonable safety in the air.

A change in the conditions stipulates that the cup may be allocated to the first man to fly at the rate of 300 kilometers, or 186 miles, an hour for half an hour, but the ultimate goal is 1,000 kilometers an hour.

Stainforth's Schneider cup record is 657 kilometers an hour, but he could not maintain this speed for half an hour, with his 2,800 horse-power motor. Bleriot believes seaplanes are impractical for much greater speeds, but he holds that the possibilities of the aeroplane are unlimited.

Just as some trains are suspended from a cable, Bleriot's accelerodrome system would apply to a fuselage driven by a motor with a propeller. His idea is to have a circular track, about three kilometers in diameter, supported by a series of steel towers.

One or two cables attached to the fuselage would slip along this track as the body moved. It would rise with the displacement of air, under its own speed.

With such a device, Bleriot thinks engines could be developed under practical tests to gain the maximum of speed and the highest propeller efficiency. He points out that in the past the difficulty of trying out machines has been the human element. Many lives have been lost, and more will be lost under the old system of designing a machine and a motor and taking them off in actual flight to see what they can do.

He claims that an accelerodrome will enable engineers better to study types of machines, motors and propellers, without any danger to human life, by spinning them around the circular track. Stresses and strains can be observed, and adjustments made accordingly.

Bleriot, who astonished the world in 1909 by flying across the English Channel, does not think there is anything chimerical in such a speed as 1,000 kilometers an hour. He says it can be realized today with the technical facilities at hand.

Taxes On the Farms

Have Increased Steadily While Land Values Are Lower

A gathering of fifteen hundred farmers at Peterboro, Ontario, voiced a protest against the taxes which agriculture is compelled to pay, and passed resolutions asking the Ontario Government to extend relief by paying the entire cost of provincial and county roads and by reducing all Governments salaries by 25 per cent.

Taxation has grown startlingly in the last quarter of a century. Its pressure is being felt today by all olasses. Farmers, especially, find that their outgo for taxes has been increasing steadily for years, while the value of farms has remained stationary or has decreased. There are many farm properties that are worth less today in the open market than they were twenty-five years ago. In fact, it would be regarded as a lucky opportunity today to be assured of prices for farm properties that were available twenty years ago. Nevertheless taxation has marched forward to new heights and shows no symptoms of a turn in the downward direction.

The governments could help revival by relief measures in farm levies. There are farms that produce little more than is adequate to pay the taxes. While conditions remain thus unsatisfactory there is no basis for optimism on the part of farmers who are much bewildered by the mounting costs of things they have to buy and the unexplainable slump in the prices of farm products. It is a situation that demands official sympathy and action.

The British Empire

People Should Know History Of Each Separate Part

Now that there is every prospect of the union of the practical and sentimental forces of the British Empire—the complete union of sentiment and substance—the Federal Government should issue a small volume containing an epitome of the present day history of this great Empire. This small volume should contain a short account of each separate part of the Empire, a paragraph or a page, with an indication of its products. Such a book would be useful to businessmen, ship owners, teachers, politicians and voters. We know the British Empire as the Jumbo of Nations, but how many men in Canada could name all its parts?

Has Her Imagination

Helen Keller Thinks "Seeing" With Fingers Is Wonderful

The sensitive fingers of Helen Keller famous blind educator touched lightly recently the glass windows of an observation tower, as she "saw" the whole vast panorama that spreads out around the loftiest of New York's skyscrapers, the Empire State Building. "I wonder," she exclaimed, "if the view you see is more wonderful than mine. You see what you see, but I have my imagination to draw upon. It seems that I am suspended in mid-air over the city."

This is the only medicine I ever take, and I urge everybody to try it."

New Zealand Imports Drop

Canada's exports to New Zealand during the first nine months of the current calendar year amounted in value to $5,031,529, a drop of 66 per cent. from the figure of $14,674,475 during the corresponding period of 1930. Passenger vehicles, lorries, trucks, etc., tires and newsprint all declined. New Zealand's total imports for the nine months amounted in value to $95,000,000, as against $165,000,000 last year, a drop of 42.7 per cent. Exports from that Dominion were valued at $136,000,000 as against $165,000,000 for the nine months in 1930.

Royal Gifts For Loneliest Island

King Sends Chritmas Remembrance To Tristan

The cruiser "Carlisle" is sailing from South Africa on a visit to the empire's loneliest outpost—the island of Tristan da Cunha in the south Atlantic.

She will take to the inhabitants—who number about 160 and lead an extremely simple existence—Christmas gifts from Great Britain in the shape of stores and provisions contributed through the Tristan da Cunha Fund, of which the Royal Geographical Society and the Royal Empire Society are trustees.

Among the gifts will be a supply of oars presented by the king, and a butter churn from the queen.

Doukhobor School Target For Bomb

A STEEL HIPPOPOTAMUS—THAT FIGHTS

What is believed to be the most sensational development yet made in the field of armored cars is represented by this amphibian fortress, equally at home on land or in the water. This strange-looking but deadly land-or-water tank is shown plowing through the waters of the River Thames, near London, England, in one of its recent tests. The craft was photographed while it was making six miles an hour against both wind and current. Note how heavily it is armored. The gun sticking from the turret is far more deadly than any weapon a hippopotamus, which the tank resembles could employ.

THE POULTRY SHOW

During the past week The Globe has received several letters from poultry fanciers of the Province, expressing their satisfaction at the very successful outcome of Lacombe's First Poultry and Pet Stock Show, and predicting that this show will develop into the best in the Province. Exhibitors were all well pleased with the arrangements made for their convenience, and congratulate the management on their good work. They realize that the first show entailed a lot of hard work on the part of the secretary and directors, but they were equal to the occasion, and everything passed off without a hitch.

A resolution to the Provincial Government asking that telephone rates be lowered in order to provide employment for more people and also to enable persons to derive benefit from the telephone system was passed. Also one to the Federal Government asking that a penalty be fixed for those breaking the law which makes illegal the charging of 8 p.c. interest. The balance of the W.I. books are to be placed in the I.O.D.E. library. Mrs. H. Reed presented the January instalment of the W.I. serial story and Mrs. W. Teward and Mrs. A. LACOMBE MAN SHOT IN LEGS

W. J. Hicks is in the Lacombe hospital with his hands so badly frozen that they may have to be amputated and with shotgun injuries to his legs.

Police are investigating after hearing Hicks' story that he was fired on by an unknown assailant while on his way to the house four miles from Lacombe where his wife working.

The shotgun wounds are not serious, but were sufficient to cause Hicks to fall exhausted on the road while attempting to walk back to Lacombe. He had turned back after being wounded and does not know who fired the shotgun.

Hicks on Wednesday morning was resting easily in the hospital and a close watch is being kept on his hands. Gangrene is feared and for that reason it is thought likely that they will have to be amputated.

Constable English and Detective S. Coggles are investigating the case.

AT THE AVALON

While famous hotels seldom turn into motion picture studios and hotel guests even more seldom are chosen as film actors, both of these things occurred in Hawaii during the making of "The Black Camel". With his entire company using the Royal Hawaiian Hotel at Waikiki Beach as a base, Director Hamilton MacFadden decided to employ the luxuriant gardens and cool lobbies of the building for many scenes of this Earl Derr Biggers' thriller.

Consequently, the hotel guests had the opportunity of enacting inferior roles in the picture, chiefly as atmosphere" while sitting or strolling about the premises. The realism of the genuine Hawaiian background, combined with the thrills and suspense of the story itself, are said to make this offering even better than the earlier Oland vehicle, "Charlie Chan Carries On."

GOVT. EMPLOYES BARRED

The Federal Government on Wednesday issued an order forbidding all government servants in future to accept municipal appointments, an Ottawa paper says Tuesday.

The decision was reached at the meeting of the Cabinet Tuesday afternoon. The formal order was prepared by Hon. C. H. Cahan, secretary of state.

The decision of the government forbidding all government employes throughout the country from accepting municipal positions is of widespread interest and takes in every section of the country.

It is definitely understood the order forbidding government employes to accept municipal positions is a general one so that it will affect postmasters serving in rural municipalities, and all others paid from the federal treasury who add the affairs of their community to their other activities.

It is understood that the aim of the cabinet is to prevent civil servants having their working hours interrupted by outside matters.

DR. OLIVER TO SPEAK IN LACOMBE

The Moderator of the United Church, Dr. E. H. Oliver, will speak in St. Andrew's Church on the evening of Thursday, Jan. 21st, from 8.00 to 9.00 o'clock. Dr. Oliver is Principal of St. Andrew's College, Saskatoon, a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada and an orator. He is a Western man and knows as much of the West as any man. He has personally visited the desolated areas of the West, and was one of the first to point out the need of relief. He was also responsible for obtaining free transportation of relief supplies. Lacombe is fortunate in being able to secure Dr. Oliver and a large audience should await him.

HOCKEY

LACOMBE AND STETTLER PLAY 30 MINUTES OVERTIME

One of the most thrilling games of the season was played on Saturday night last when Stettler and Lacombe battled through 90 minutes of hockey hockey to endeavor to break a 2—2 tie. Much fast hockey was exhibited by both sides and at times it looked as though the tie would be broken when combination rushes got through to the goal-mouth. In the overtime play, especially, the play was even, and almost certain goals by both sides came to grief before brilliant goal-tending of both teams. In the first period of the overtime, Brooks had a golden opportunity to score for Lacombe, but was going too fast and overskated. Stettler duplicated this play later on, with the same result. The play see-sawed back and forth till the final gong, and the game ended 2—2, each team getting a point in the league standing.

LACOMBE HANDS OUT TRIMMING TO PONOKA

Lacombe defeated Ponoka, on Thursday night of last week by the score of 5 to 2. Although beaten at every turn is the game, Ponoka put up a good struggle, the team as a whole turning in a good performance. In the closing minutes of the game, Lacombe put up a solid five-man defence and kept the Ponoka forwards too far out to be dangerous. C. Lux, of Ponoka scored the first goal just after the opening bell sounded, and towards the end of the initial stanza, Brooks, of Lacombe got through on a brilliant solo rush and evened the score. The middle session produced some thrilling hockey and was played at a furious pace. Brooks scored early in this period, to put Lacombe one to the good, but the score was evened again when Hays scored. Penman and Duckworth both scored, putting the game safely away for Lacombe. In the final period, Brooks again scored and the game ended 5 to 2 in Lacombe's favor.

STETTLER WINS FROM PONOKA IN OVERTIME

Stettler climbed in a tie for second place in the Big Five Hockey league on Tuesday night, when the Stettler team beat Ponoka 3 to 2 in a hectic overtime battle that provided a fair sized crowd with the fastest hockey fixture seen in Stettler this season.

Stettler was awarded the odd goal in the third overtime period when Ponoka refused to come back into the game. Costigan scored for the Stettler team in the opening frame after Lewis netted a tally for Ponoka, and Patrick of Stettler tied the score in the last period.

LACOMBE STEPS INTO FIRST PLACE IN LEAGUE

Lacombe gained first place in the Big 5 Hockey League on Tuesday night by defeating Innisfail in overtime contest on the Olds arena. In the first period, Duckworth scored for Lacombe and this counter was duplicated by Innisfail when Ross scored. The game was fast and clean and the large crowd of fans got a lot of thrills for their money.

THE LEAGUE SANDING

	W.	L.	T.	F.	A.	P.
Lacombe	8	2	1	46	24	17
Red Deer	7	3	0	41	27	14
Stettler	6	3	1	32	22	14
Ponoka	1	6	2	29	45	4
Innisfail	1	8	1	14	40	3

The next two league games to be played in Lacombe arena are:

Red Deer at Lacombe on Saturday, January 16th.

Ponoka at Lacombe on Thursday, January 21.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE
Clerks Tie Rink Rats

In a really hard contested game on Monday night, the Clerks and the Rink rats tied, the score being 1 to 1. A fair crowd of fans turned out, but not as many as the games deserved. The score in this game is a good indication of the play, as both sides were evenly matched.

These Commercial League matches are good, and more support should be given them. The Rink Rats are now leading the league, with the Clerks a close second. The Mechanics, however are at the bottom of the league, and have their work cut out for them to overtake the two first teams.

Jofre Shuts Out Bentley

In a ferocious battle on Monday night, Joffre applied the whitewash brush to Bentley to the tune of 2-0. It was indeed a hectic encounter, and both teams mixed matters tooth and nail. A fast clip was set and at times the arena fairly shook with the impact of crashing bodies. There were no fights, but nevertheless, plenty of thrills. The Joffre goaler had his hands full on frequent occasions and was called upon to make many miraculous saves. The Bentley forwards were going good, but did not seem to get the breaks. As to the defence lines of both teams—they sure defended, and it was nothing at all to see two players flying through the air at the same time. The Bentley manager says that the Joffre team got most of the breaks, but that the next time the two teams tangle, it will be an entirely different story—he also imparted in secret that his team would play according to Australian rules. This should be a good game.

RED DEER HIGH SCHOOL TEAM HUMBLES LACOMBE HIGH SCHOOL TEAM

In a one-sided game held on Tuesday night, Red Deer High School Romped through the Lacombe High School Team to administer a whitewashing the score being 4 to 0. It was a pretty good game, despite the score, and the Lacombe boys deserved more goals, but could not get a good start. We look for a better showing in the next game.

It will be seen by the above list of hockey games, that Lacombe is a real hockey town. At the present time there are no less than five good teams among the older boys, and also several among the smaller boys. At this writing, the Lacombe entry in the Big 5 League is at the top of the ladder and from the way they are now playing should hold that position. The Commercial League is going, fine and much good hockey talent is being developed.

Rail Parties Discuss Wages

Reduction Is Privately Talked By Union Heads and Rail Executives

Members of the conference of railway chairmen met executives of Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways recently and discussed the situation with regard to the cut of 10 per cent. proposed by the railways and the retroactive angle of the matter which has come into prominence as a result of a letter received by the conference from Ottawa suporting the position taken by the unions that the awards could not be made retroactive.

It is understood that the talk, which was conducted in the most friendly spirit, centred chiefly about the retroactive aspect. No details of what transpired could be learned, both the union members and the railway executives refused to discuss the matter. Another meeting is to take place shortly.

The New Junkers' Plane

Has Opened Up New Phase Of Transportation In Canada

Extremely valuable mineral finds have been reported in different parts of the north country far beyond the railways. That at Bear Lake up on the Arctic circle is perhaps the most notable, but there are others at Island Lake, east of the north end of Lake Winnipeg, and elsewhere. The development of such properties, no matter how rich, is impossible without adequate transportation facilities. The prospectors and mining men can fly to those remote places with the airplanes now in use, and these can carry a small amount of freight. But development on any considerable scale requires something better.

It is to supply this need that Canadian Airways Limited has secured the big Junkers 'plane. It is built for carrying freight, not passengers. The interior resembles the inside of a freight car. Its carrying capacity and its speed when loaded of 100 miles an hour should be a great stimulus to mining development at remote points. It is understood that the company will secure other freight 'planes of the same type.

This is a new and interesting phase of transportation in Canada, and it may lead to highly important developments.—Manitoba Free Press.

Paris Has Rare Viands

"Salon Of Gastronomy" Draws Throngs To Sample Foods

There are always interesting salons to be seen in Paris and just now there are no less than three—the Autumn Salon of painting and sculpture, the Nautical Salon with full-sized yachts and motorboats exhibited in the great hall of the Grand Palais and most interesting for most people, the "Salon of Gastronomy."

At the latter are to be seen and tasted the most delectable viands of this fruitful land of France. There are assembled the artists of the culinary world and there the wine-makers are exhibiting their finest products for the public to taste.

It is possible to lunch there on samples, beginning with caviar and continuing with lark pie and sauerkraut with fifty kinds of sausage to choose from, hams from a dozen cures, and cakes without number. For those who look like potential customers, champagne and cognac merchants will open choice bottles. There is even unfermented grapejuice to be sampled, for France is not bigoted about wines.

Each day official and unofficial juries try out new dishes and go home at night declaring the world is almost too full of good things.

Stockyards Are Busy

Saskatoon Handling Large Pecentage Of Shipments For Market

Dominion Government returns received at Saskatoon covering the marketing of livestock in the province of Saskatchewan reveal that 75 per cent. of the livestock marketed in this province during the week ending December 10 passed through the Saskatoon stockyard. This is taken by livestock officials to indicate the rapid development of the cattle and hog industry in the northern areas of the province, and follows closely in line with the trend of marketing percentages for the past months.

Have To Pass Inspection

Even Christmas Trees Are Not Immune From Law

Even our Christmas trees are not immune from government inspection and certification U.S. Department of Agriculture reports that Christmas trees and greens may not always be as harmless as they seem. If shipped from an area heavily infested with some dangerous insect pest into a non infested area, they constitute a distinct menace to vegetation. Therefore, a federal quarantine bars shipment of evergreens from those parts of New England which are heavily infested with gipsy moth, a serious pest of shade trees. Plant quarantine inspectors of the Department of Agriculture carefully scrutinize all shipments from the lightly infested regions.

Robot Quickly Puts Fires Out

Fires are quickly extinguished by a robot equipped with an "electric eye" for detecting smoke and flames and with carbon dioxide for putting out the blaze. The electric eye is an adaptation of the photo-electric cell, operating the extinguisher more quickly than one can call the fire department. The extinguisher substance is shot from a cigar in the mouth of the mechanical fireman in one form of the robot.

Another Growing Industry

Exports Of Canadian Salmon Have More Than Doubled

Canada is replacing the United States in the British market for canned salmon and for the first nine months of the present calendar year, the Dominnion more than doubled its exports over the corresponding period a year ago.

Up to the end of September, according to the current issue of the Commercial Intelligence Journal, the United Kingdom imported from Canada, 102,000 cwt. of canned salmon, while importations from the United States totalled 96,000 cwt. During the same period last year Canada's share was only 47,000 cwt., while that of the United States was considerably over 100,000 cwt.

Britain imported 262,000 cwt. of canned salmon during 1930.

British Firms Interested

May Invest Capital In Clay Resources Of Saskatchewan

Possible development of Saskatchewan's clay resources by British capital is seen in information given out by the Bureau of Publications at Regina.

According to the Bureau's report, two British manufacturing firms have been interested by the Department of Railways, Labor and Industries, from the standpoint of the manufacture of sewer pipe and electrical porcelain.

Both companies have shown some interest in the possible erection of branch plants, and the department anticipates that with the return of normal conditions, the investigations will be continued with the object of ultimately erecting plants.

Equality In The Empire

British Relations Have Been Put On New Basis

Great Britain by the Statute of Westminster, enacts legal and constitutional equality within the British Commonwealth.

At the same time, she levies a tariff against fresh fruits, early vegetables, flowers and bulbs of foreign countries, and grants Canada and the other Dominions a preference as high as 100 per cent.

This is a double signal that the progressive forces have carried the day in putting British relations on a new basis. The counter-pull, the reactionary which would go back to the old Imperial status has lost.

Now the constitutional terms are defined. Now the British market is open. It is for Canada and the other Dominions to interpret them. "Equality" and "preference," thus linked together have given "status" a new meaning. They have given it a meaning in dollars and cents that British Columbia, with her fruits and vegetables, and flowers, and bulbs, seeking markets should be quick to appreciate and follow up.—Vancouver Sun.

Ocean Liner Immune To Motion Of Waves

Has Stabilizer Plant To Counteract Seas and Prevent Sea-Sickness

The level-deck ship, immune to seamotion and impervious to the attacks of the roughtest seas, dream of timid ocean-travellers since the day Columbus made his first crossing, was launched at Trieste.

The "Conte Di Savoia" of the Lloyd-Sabaudo Line, is the first passenger ship to be equipped with a stabilizer plant to counteract the effect of rough seas and prevent sea sickness.

Three Sperry gyroscope stabilizers, each with a rotor thirteen feet in diameter and weighing 100 tons, or 300 tons in all, are installed in the "Conte Di Savio" at a cost approximating one million dollars, and is an entirely new departure in passengership construction, although the Sperry stabilizer has proven its efficacy for many years on yachts and fighting craft.

The "Conte Di Savoia's" stabilizer plant is three times larger than the biggest stabilizer plant at present in use, one recently installed on a foreign warship.

The stabilizers are installed in a by aft of the bridge. They are electric-specially constructed chamber slightmatic control device or pilot, and can ally operated, each with its own autobe used either separately or in a group.

That Radio Box Is Still Wonderful

Though Nothing Seems To Move, Millions Of Electrons Dance Constantly

Though commonplace today—a radio receiver is still very wonderful. Looking into the receiver, nothing seems to move except the tuning condenser. Yet, hidden in the coated copper wires are millions of electrons which dance to and fro to every note played or syllable spoken.

The dancers are extremely temperamental and fussy. A little moisture is a resistance—and the electrons hop instead of dance. Amplified a million times, the hops cause the speaker to creak and groan.

On the other hand, variations in the house current throw the electrons out of step. With high voltage they dance too fast—become exhausted causing tubes and parts to die at an early age. With low line voltage, the set sounds and feels low.

Merely push a button and in comes the procession of stations from distant cities. But let's not forget — wonderful things still happen in that radio box.

Wheat Acreage Extended

Forecast For Coming Harvest In Australia 212,000,000 Bushels

Despite low world prices, planting of wheat in Australia has been extended and the federal department of markets, after a preliminary survey of crop prospects in all states, anticipates the coming harvest will yield more than 212,000,000 bushels.

The State of Western Australia has gradually extended the acreage devoted to wheat.

An extensive examination of the wheat lands and agriculture generally is being made by Mr. F. Lindfield, dean of the faculty of agriculture at the University of Montana. He said he is impressed by Australian farming methods and the efficiency of Australian agricultural colleges, but he deplored the tendency to plant more and more wheat in the hope of better prices.

Canadian Bees For Orient

Alberta Company Recently Shipped 1,200 Colonies To China

Something new in Canada's export trade with the Orient, and likely to have far-reaching effect, was inaugurated when Mr. C. George Reidel, of Taber, Alberta, shipped 1,200 colonies of screened bees and their accompanying queens from the Province of Alberta to China. The Canadian Pacific Railway, in charge of the unique shipment, arranged for quick transit to Vancouver, where the bees were loaded immediately into special refrigeration compartments on the "Empress of Russia," which sailed on November 21. Mr. Reidel's company is one of the largest producers of first quality table honey in the British Empire.

It has been discovered that the variety of bee that makes honey in Europe and America, "apis mellifica," produces almost twice as much honey as the native Asiatic bee that has made honey for the Chinese since the time of Confucius. In China honey is not so much a food as a medicine. It is sold in all Chinese apothecary shops for medicine recipes.

Mr. Reidel has already made two shipments of bees to China from his California apiaries, and is now taking leave of absence from his firm for five years. He accompanied the present shipment of 1,200 three-frame nuclei from Alberta, and will demonstrate modern Canadian and American methods of bee culture in the Orient. Each of the 1,200 colonies will have its pure-bred Italian queen.

"By means of this experiment, it is expected," says Mr. Reidel, "that the lives of the industrious little workers in the hives will be spared to continue the work of conserving the food of the flowers for the benefit of humanity."

Auto Bungalow Camp For National Park

May Be Established Under License At Prince Albert

The National Parks Department will shortly advertise for offers for an exclusive license to establish an auto bungalow camp at Prince Albert National Park, it was announced by the superintendent, J. A. Wood. The license offered is for 21 years, renewable for a further 21 years. Exclusive rights to operate a bungalow camp are given for only five years.

Plans in the parks office here cover $5,000 worth of buildings by the first year. These are only in the nature of a suggestion, Mr. Wood said. In any event, plans and specifications will have to be fully approved by the parks department. Three proposed sites are under consideration.

Remarkable Collection Is Put On Display At St. Louis

A polished, silver-mounted ram's horn and a conch shell with tube affixed are among the pioneer instruments devised for the aid of hard-of-hearing that were recently on display at the Central Institute for the Deaf in St. Louis. The collection is said to be one of the first of its kind. Hearing devices from all periods of history are included. Some of the exhibits indicate that the vanities of their owners were regarded more than their hearing.

Better Than Imported Woods

Manitoba To Use Jackpine For Power Line Poles

The forestry committee of the Industrial Development Board of Manitoba report that thousands of power line poles in Manitoba, made of imported wood, may soon be replaced by poles of native Manitoba jackpine. The wearing qualities of the jackpine, when treated for the purpose, are said to equal those of imported poles. This committee also reports that cut-over lands in Manitoba are showing exceptionally rapid new growth.

Are Building Giant Liner

New Queen Of Seas Under Construction For Cunard Company

Almost a quarter of a million people in Great Britain will have had employment either directly or indirectly in the construction of the new giant Cunard liner which is being built by John Brown & Co., at their Clydebank yards.

There is hardly an industry in the whole of Great Britain that has not been affected in some way or other by the construction of this mighty vessel. Everywhere factories have been working night and day since the order for this liner was first given to John Brown & Co., on December 1st, 1930, by Sir Percy Bates, Bart., G.B.E., chairman of the Cunard Line.

In addition to the great forgings, turbo generators, miles and miles of tubing and such like accessories which will be wanted, there will be thousands of pieces of cutlery and plate, crockery and other equipment required for feeding the large armies of passengers on this new super Cunnarder on her trans-Atlantic crossings.

When the huge rudder, which in weight equals about twenty-five street cars, was being transported from Darlington to Clydebank, the railway company, over whose lines it was being carried, were forced to suspend all other trains until the one carrying the rudder had completed its journey, as the mammoth piece of metal required two specially-constructed flat cars running side by side to carry it. A veritable forest of lumber was required to furnish the wooden props for varying sizes which support the vessel as she lies in her stocks. This new Queen of the Seas will be turned over to the Cunard Line sometime in 1933. Her launching is expected to take place early next year.

Has Gone Beyond Reason

Ten Per Cent. Discount On Canadian Dollar Is Plenty

The discount upon the Canadian dollar is, so far as the statistical record goes, beyond reason. A ten per cent. allowance would apparently bridge the difference between the Canadian and the American dollar; and a continuing discount at that rate would be accepted as satisfactory and would permit the doing of business. Instead, the discount has reached a height so unjustifiable by the known facts as to suggest manipulation. It is, of course, claimed that the price ofexchange is determined with exactitude by the operation of the law of supply and demand; but this, like other beliefs about the automatic and impartial functioning of international banking, is being damaged by developments which suggest that the whole field of international banking has been in recent months a battleground for powerful, unscrupulous scheming financial powers.

New York has been for many years the money market for Canada and we have made our exchanges with the world through it. Under former conditions this was natural, convenient, safe and prompt. But it is now apparent that if we are forced to continue to use this machinery we shall pay a heavy toll. The suggestion comes from Ottawa that our dependence upon New York can be broken by the establishment of our own money market in Montreal. It is a question not of the desirability of this change but of its practicability. If such a market can be established by the joint action of the banks and with the assistance of the Government, there should be no delay in embarking upon the enterprise.—Manitoba Free Press.

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

— BY —

MARGARET PEDLER

Author Of "The Splendid Folly," "The Hermit Of Far End."

Hodder & Stoughton, Ltd., London.

Nick at once established himself at Jean's side kindly informing her that now that his inner man was satisfied he was prepared to make himself agreeable. Upon which Lady Anne apologized for his manners and Nick interrupted her, volubly pointing out that the fault, if any (which he denied), was entirely hers, since she had been responsible both for his upbringing and inherited tendencies. They both talked at once, wrangling together wit huge zest and enjoyment, and it was easily apparent that the two were very close friends indeed.

Blaise took no part in the stream of chatter and nonsense which ensued, but stood a little apart, his shoulder propped against the chimney-piece, drinking his coffee in silence.

Jean's glance wandered reflectively from one brother to the other. They presented a striking contrast—the stern, dark-browned face of the elder man, with its bitter-looking mouth and that strange white streak lying like some ghostly finger-mark across his dark hair, and the bubbling, blue-eyed charm of the younger. The difference between them was as definite as the difference between sunlight and shadow.

Nick was full of plans for Jean's entertainment, suggestions for boating and tennis occupying a prominent position in the programme he sketched out.

"It's really quite jolly paddling about on our lake," he rattled on. "The stream that feeds it hails from Dartmoor, of course. All Devonshire streams do, I believe—at least, you'll never hear of one that doesn't, the Moor being our proudest possession. Besides, people always believe that your water supply must be of crystalline purity if you just casually mention that its source is a Dartmoor spring. So of course, we all swear to the Dartmoor origin of our domestic waterworks. It sounds well—even if not always strictly true."

"Miss Peterson must find it a trifle difficult to follow your train of thought," commented Blaise a little sharply. "A moment ago you were discussing boating, and now it sounds as though you'll shortly involve yourself—and us—in a disposition upon hygiene."

Nick smiled placidly.

"My enthusiasm got away with me a bit," he admitted with unruffled calm. "But I haven't the least doubt that Miss Peterson will like to know these few reassuring particulars. However——" And he forthwith returned enthusiastically to the prospect of tennis and kindred pastimes.

Once again Blaise broke in ungraciously. It seemed as though, for some reason, Nick's flow of light-hearted nonsense and the dozen different plans he was proposing for Jean's future divertisement, irritated him.

"Your suggestions seem to me remarkably inept, Nick," he observed scathingly, " seeing that at present it is midwinter and the lake frozen over about a foot deep. Quite conceivably, by the time that tennis and boating become practicable, Miss Peterson may not be here. She may get tired of us long before the summer comes," he added quickly, as though in a belated endeavour to explain away the suggestion of inhospitality which might easily be inferred from his previous sentence.

But if the hasty addition were intended to reassure Jean, it failed of its purpose. The idea that her coming to Staple was not particularly acceptable to its master had already taken possession of her. Originally the consequence of the conversation she had overheard at the hotel, Tormarin's reluctantly given welcome when he met her at Coombe Eavie Station had served to increase her feeling of embarrassment. And now, this last speech, though so hastily qualified, convinced her that her advent was regarded by her host in anything but a pleasurable light.

"Yes, I don't think you must count on me for the tennis season, Mr. Brennan," she said quickly, "I don't propose to billet myself on you indefinitely, you know."

"Oh, but I hope you do, my dear," Lady Anne interposed with a simple sincerity there was no doubting. "You must certainly stay with us till your father comes home, and"—with a smile—"unless Glyn has altered considerably, I imagine Beirnfels will not see him again under a year."

"But I couldn't possibly foist myself on to you for a year!" exclaimed Jean. "That would be a sheer imposition."

Lady Anne smiled across at her.

"My dear," she said, "I've never had a daughter—only these two great, unmanageable sons—and I'm just longing to play at having one. You're not going to disappoint me, I hope?"

There was something irresistibly winning in Lady Anne's way of putting the matter, and Jean jumped up and kissed her impulsively.

"I should hate to!" she answered warmly.

But she evaded giving a direct promise; there must be a clearer understanding between herself and Tormarin before she could accept Lady Anne's hospitality as frankly and fully as it was offered.

The opportunity for this clearer understanding came with the entry of Baines, the butler, who brought the information that a favourite young sister of Nick's had been taken ill and that the stablemen feared the dog had distemper.

Nick sprang up, his concern showing in his face.

"I'll come out and have a look at him," he said quickly.

"I'll come with you," added Lady Anne.

She slipped her hand through his arm and they hurried off to the stables, leaving Blaise and Jean alone together.

For a moment neither spoke. Blaise, smoking a cigarette, remained staring sombrely into the fire. Apparently he did not regard it as incumbent on him to make conversation, and Jean felt miserably nervous about broaching the subject of her visit. At last, however, fear lest Lady Anne and Nick should return before she could do so, drove her into speech.

"Mr. Tormarin," she said quietly—so quietly that none would have guessed the flurry of shyness which underlay her cool little voice—"I am very sorry you will have to put up with me for a week or two, but I promise you I will try to make other arrangements as soon as I can.

He turned towards her abruptly.

"May I ask what you mean?" he demanded. It was evident from the haughty, almost arrogant tone of his voice that something had aroused his anger, though whether it was the irritation consequent upon her presence there, or because he chose to take her speech as censuring his attitude, Jean was unable to determine. His eyes were stormy and inwardly she quailed a little beneath their glance; outwardly, however, she retained her composure.

"I think my meaning is perfectly clear," she returned with spirit. "Even at the station you made it quite evident that my appearance came upon you in the light of an unpleasant surprise. And—from what you said just now to Mr. Brennan—it is obvious you hope my visit will not be a long one."

If she had anticipated spurring him into an impulsive disclaimer, she was disappointed.

"I am sorry I have failed so lamentably in my duties as host," he said coldly.

The apology, uttered with such an entire lack of ardour, served to emphasize the offence for which it professed to ask pardon. Jean's face whitened. She would hardly have felt more hurt and astonished if he had struck her.

"I—I——" she began. Then stopped, finding her voice unsteady.

But he had heard the break in the low, shaken tones, and in a moment his mood of intolerant anger vanished.

"Forgive me," he said remorsefully—and there was genuine contrition in his voice now. "I'm a cross-grained fellow, Miss Peterson; you'll find that out before you've been here many days. But never think that you are unwelcome at Staple."

"Then why—I don't understand you," she stammered. She found his sudden changes of humour bewildering.

He smiled down at her, that rare, strangely sweet smile of his which when it came always seemed to transform his face, obliterating the harsh sternness of its lines.

"Perhaps I don't understand, either," he said gently. "Only I know it would have been better if you had never come to Staple."

"Then—you wish I hadn't come?"

"Yes"—slowly. "I think I do wish that."

She looked at him a little wistfully.

"Is that why you were angry—because I've come here? Lady Anne and—and Mr. Brennan seemed quite pleased," she added as though in protest.

"No doubt. Nick, lucky devil, has no need to economize in magic moments."

She felt her cheeks flush under the look he bent upon her, but she forced herself to meet it.

"And—and you?" she questioned very low.

"I have"—briefly.

It was long before sleep visited Jean that night. The events of the day marched processionally through her mind, and her thoughts persisted in clustering round the baffling, incomprehensible personality of Blaise Tormarin.

His extreme bitterness of speech she ascribed to the unfortunate episode that lay in his past. But she could find no reason for his strange, expressed wish to disregard their former meeting at Montavan—to wipe out, as it were, all recollection of it.

That he did not dislike her she felt sure; and a woman rarely makes a mistake over a man's personal attitude towards her. But for some reason, it seemed to her, he was afraid to let himself like her! It was as though he were anxious to bolt and bar the door against any possibility of friendship between them. From whichever way she looked at it, she could find no key to the mystery of his behaviour. It was inexplicable.

Only one thing emerged from the confusion of thought; the lost glamour of that night at Montavan had returned—returned with fresh impulse and persuasiveness. And when at last she fell asleep, it was with the beseeching, soul-haunting melody of "Valse Triste" crying in her ears.

Blind Actors Are Clever

But Training Them Is No Easy Task

They call their little theatre up on East 50th Street "The Lighthouse," and a short time ago they spoke the lines and performed the business of three lively one-act comedies.

No mumbling, no stumbling—but it's different than if they were ordinary players.

"They" are five girls—all blind.

The one-act plays opened their eighth season and the proceeds went to the blind unemployed. "The Lighthouse" was sold out and the S. R. O. sign was up.

A dress rehearsal tested their precision. They walked on to their cues, sat in chairs, opened and closed doors, picked up the telephone, held newspapers and pretended to read; did all the business that ordinary actors do with the aid of eyes, spoke their lines and never groped.

They "looked" at each other. They handed things to each other.

The audience was privy to their state, but not at all because of the way they act. What the audience did not know is the task they had in rehearsal.

The blind, said Miss Phyllis Marschall, who directed the plays, have no expression aside from laughter. In fear, anger or sadness, their features remain immobile. For each part Miss Marschall had to register the action and expression while the blind players felt over her with sensitive fingers.

If they must raise their eyebrows or frown, they must touch Miss Marschall's face to know how it is done.

Bumps in the rugs guide them over the stage. In addition to their lines, which they must learn from Braille, they have to remember how many steps from each rug bump is each article of furniture, and they must make the steps with a poise that does not give away the counting.

Decrease In Shipments Of Grain At Head Of Lakes

Decline Of 20,186,423 Bushels Is Reported By Board Of Grain Commissioners

The figures showing the shipments of grain from the port of Fort William-Port Arthur, the head of the lakes, during the season of navigation from April 15, 1931, to December 8, 1931, are available from the statistical department of the Board of Grain Commissioners. Shipments of all grains totalled 190,306,501 bushels, compared with 210,492,924 in 1930, a falling off of 20,186,423 bushels.

The shipments of the five grains were distributed as follows: Wheat, 146,017,010; oat, 17,319,522; barley, 21,141,416; flax, 2,241,661; rye, 3,585,892. More coarse grains were shipped during the past season of navigation than in that of 1930, the difference between the wheat shipments of the two years amounting to 32,932,905 bushels.

This grain was carried out in 1,081 cargoes, of which 824 went out in Canadian vessels, 254 in United States vessels and three in British foreign vessels.

Potatoes Scarce

It is expected that potatoes will be scarce and dear in many parts of Cheshire and other parts of England this winter. There is much disease among them, and those that have been gathered are not keeping well. Reports from the Irish Free State indicate that the potato crop there is also likely to be below average with an unusually large proportion of small tubers.

The Secret Out

When the train stopped at a tation, the guard came round the carriages calling in at the window: "Is there anyone here with a box in the guard's van?"

A clergyman answered that he had. "And in it," he said, "are some valuable books containing very useful information."

"Well," said the guard, "you had better come along; your information is leaking."—Tit-Bits.

It seems that every time the world gets down to brass tacks they are the wrong way up.

In Interests Of Science

Harvard Medical Student With Incurable Ailment Listed Symptoms For Doctors

A mother told the brave saga of her son, a Harvard medical student, who, suffering from an incurable ailment, catalogued his symptoms and reactions during the closing days of his life and then directed his body to be dissected in the interests of science.

Alfred Zymour Reinhart had been graduated from Harvard with highest honors and had just completed his third year in the medical school when he discovered symptoms of a heart trouble which indicated that he had not long to live. Turning to his mother he said, "I'll be dead in four months."

He spent a few days at home and then entered the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital where he watched the progress of his affliction and studied similar cases. Later he transferred to the Thorndyke Memorial Laboratory of the Boston City Hospital.

As life waned, he fought off the pain of his disease and made notations of his observations. Four days before his death he called in a stenographer and dictated them to her.

Death came, but there was one more phase of his work to be enacted. He had ordered an autopsy on his body and had told physicians just what they might expect to find.

Just two hours after he died Dr. Soma Weiss, of the Harvard Medical School performed the autopsy while classmates of Renhart stood in silent rows around the city hospital amphitheatre. Reinhart's predictions were found to be correct.

Prince Stresses the Value Of Advertising

Urges Nation To Keep Great Britain Before the World

The Prince of Wales urged the nation to tell the world that Great Britain "is still alive" and able to take advantage of the most modern method of advertising.

Addressing the annual meeting of the Travel Association, the British heir lived up to his reputation as the Empire's best salesman when he quoted a modernized version of an old rhyme:

"Early to bed and early to rise:
"You'll simply bust if you don't advertise."

"Too little is known abroad of what Britain and Ireland have to offer," the Prince said, "while there is too much talk of financial and industrial difficulties which we, in common with every other country, are suffering."

The Prince told the meeting, at which Lord Derby presided and which was attended by many prominent persons including 30 mayors from all parts of England, that the stoppage of British pleasure touring abroad was merely an emergency measure, due to the financial situation.

Ickornshaw, the title assumed by Viscount Snowden, is mentioned in Domesday Book, and is a part of the small town of Cowling, in the West Riding of Yorkshire, where Snowden was born and passed his early years. The house in which the ex-Chancellor was born is situated in Ickornshaw, which is derived from a Norse word meaning "The Oak in the Woods." Cowling is about six miles from Keighley, on the road to Skipton.

The powders are so easy to take that the most delicate stomach can assimilate them and welcome them as speedy easers of pain, because they promptly remove the worms that cause the pain, and thus the suffering of the child is relieved. With so sterling a remedy at hand no child should suffer an hour from worms.

Millionaires Are Fewer

Reduced By Half In U.S. After Stock Crash Of 1929

That there are 23,496 fewer millionaires in the United States now than there were before the stock market crash is one of the striking revelations of the disastrous effects of the business depression made by the Internal Revenue Bureau's statistics of income for 1930 issued at Washington.

If a millionaire be defined as a person with not less than a million dollars' wirth of property, the income from which is $50,000 or more, there were 43,184 millionaires in the heyday of the boom times in 1928. The stock market cracked in October, 1929, leaving 38,650 persons reporting incomes of $50,000 or more for that calendar year. In 1930, however, the number of millionaires had fallen to 10,688.

The figures showing less than half as many millionaires with about one-third of their former income will have an important bearing upon tax legislation in the approaching session of Congress to meet the two billion dollar treasury deficit looming for this fiscal year.

LIVE OAK

All the trees in the forest
Bow to the winter's will,
Flinging their bright-hued leaves aside,
Shuddering, bare and chill.

All the trees in the forest
Scatter their leaves of gold,
Scatter their leaves of red and bronze
Naked they stand, and cold.

All the trees in the forest
Saving the oak alone—
Live oak, who clings to his robe of green,
Careless that summer has flown.

I would be, like the oak tree,
Dauntless in winter's blast,
Clothed with the joy of sunbright hours
And the memories of the past.

Companion Was Harmless

Indian Trapper Discovered He Slept In Cabin With Bear

Once upon a time—quite recently in fact—Peter John, an Indian from the Rama band, was walking through the woods near Orillia, Ont. Here and there he inspected his traps. It was getting dusk and the reserve was a long way from Peter John. So he decided to spend the night in an old cabin. In the cabin were two beds, a little bed and a big bed.

So Peter John climbed into the big bed and went to sleep. In the morning Peter John was awakened by a stentorian and wheezing snore and a couple of yawns. So he looked into the little bed and there he saw what he thought was a man in a fur coat. Peter John said "hello," but there was no answer. He reached out and shook the fur coat. And the fur coat uncurled itself, uttered a loud "woof" and a couple of grunts and went away very quickly.

And Peter John said it was the first time, as far as he knew, he had ever slept quite so close to a bear.

Girls Are Advised To Marry Farmers

More Chances For Having Happy Home and Fewer For Divorce

Girls eager for the best chance for domestic happiness were advised to marry farmers by Mrs. Ellsworth Richardson of Albia, Iowa., the only woman to have received the distinguished service medal awarded by the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"The girl who marries a farmer has a much greater opportunity for a happy home and a fuller home life than the girl who goes down the middle aisle with a city dweller," she said.

The farm, she said, brings a man and his wife into closer community of interests than is generally possible in city life.

"Have you a Charles Dickens in your home?" asked the polite book agent.

"No," snapped the housewife at the door.

"No!"

"Or a Gene Fields?"

Canadian Authors

Effect Of Tariff On Work Of Canadian Writers Is Subject Of Discussion

The effect on Canadian authors of the tariff against United States periodicals came up at the meeting of the Canadian Authors' Association at Toronto. Miss Margaret Lawrence, of the Canadian Home Journal, said that since the imposition of the tariff the magazine which she represented had been receiving a better class of work. Canadian writers were sending manuscripts to their own publications instead of across the border, she thought.

J. T. Rutledge, editor of the Canadian magazine, stressed the importance of trying to improve workmanship and holding to Canadian ideals. "People will read articles and stories in United States' publications that they would not read in Canadian," he said. So far as the tariff was concerned, he commented, "prohibition never helped anyone to grow strong. We do not want a tariff wall, but an attitude of mind."

Believe Debt Parley In January Likely

Expected Conference Will Be Held In Brussels About January 15

An impression that an international conference on debts and reparations will be held in January was current in diplomatic circles in Paris, France. It was thought the conference probably would meet in Brussels about January 15.

While the date appeared acceptable to all parties concerned, the place of the meeting was less certain. Brussels seemed to be preferred, but Paris, London, England, and the French Riviera also have been suggested.

United States participation in any general conference on war debts and reparations was held unlikely in high administration circles.

It was believed that if such a conference is convened in Europe an unofficial observer might be sent, but beyond this the United States would not go.

Little Helps For This Week

"Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feeble-minded, support the weak, be patient toward all men."—1 Thessalonians v. 14.

What are we set on earth for? Say, to toil,
Nor seek to leave the tending of the vines;
For all the heat o' day till it declines
And death's mild curfew shall from work assoil.
God did anoint thee with His odorous oil
To wrestle, not to reign; and He signs
All thy tears over like pure crystalliness
For younger fellow-workers of the soil
To wear for amulets. So others shall
Take patience, labour to their heart and hand,
From thy hand, and thy heart, and thy brave cheer;
And God's grace fructify through thee to all.
The least flower with a brimming cup may stand
And share its dew-drop with another near.
—Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Every man and woman trying to be honest, pure, and helpful in this world finds that the very highest work set before them is self-sacrifice. Very few of us have the chance of heroic self-devotion, but every day brings the petty, wearing sacrifice which weights full weight in God's scales.—Samuel Cagood.

Duty On British Coins

Puts a Stop To Shilling Trading In South Africa

To stop the dumping of silver from England into South Africa, the Union's Government has imposed a duty of 20 per cent. on all British coins.

The action developed from suspension of the gold standard in Northern and Southern Rhodesia, those colonies having followed the example of the mother country.

The South African pound thus became worth more than 20 English shillings and persons holding South African currency or those about to visit the union, found it advantageous to change their money outside the country into English silver, the latter coins being legal tender here.

IS OUR SYSTEM OF EDUCATION WRONG?

Editor Globe:

I was born 71 years ago and have travelled in many countries, and have seen conditions as they are in those countries. I have seen natives of some of these countries thrashed by "white" men till their blood ran down on the ground. These unfortunates, we must not shut our eyes to the fact, at one time owned the countries in which they are now slaves; and all through their wrong system of education, a system and nothing more than a system. Now, what I want to explain is, that our educational system is wrong. Take history, literature, as an example; they are kindred sciences. History teaches us of bygone wars, statesmen, soldiers, merchants, inventors and leaders of industry. Will the study of things and persons of bygone days get you anywhere? This reminds me of the hired man who asked his master to lend him a lantern when he was going to see his sweetheart. His master said he did not take a lantern along when he courted his wife. "Well" remarked the hired man, "see what you got." Literature places before us the inner thoughts and ideals of historians, novelists, poets and philosophers. History is repeating itself in cycles, and so it will, if we let it, and our educational system is to blame. Take for instance the literature of India (I have been there) alone. The literature is vast beyond comprehension. The library of one of the kings is said to have contained so many books than a hundred Brahmans were employed in taking care of it, and a thousand dromodaries were required to convey it from place to place. The most ancient Indian literature is "Sanskrit" indo-European group of languages, including Persian, Greek, Latin, Scandinavian, Celtic, etc. Sanskrit has furnished and is furnishing a rich storehouse for European and other scholars of the world. In India they use a word "Veda", which in English means knowledge. There are four kinds of this knowledge, and each is divided into six branches of science, namely: phonics, grammar, etymology, ceremonial. Sanskrit literature belongs to an imaginative and creative, as well as to a serious and thoughtful people; to wit: Mahatma Ghandi, who is at present in prison.

I must commend the study of the article in last week's paper from the pen of Mrs. George, of Rimbey, to everyone. Don't just glance over it; study it. Mrs. George says we adopted our first educational system from the Old Country. That's where I got mine, and I must say that that education was gained at a great expense to my parents, and afterwards to me, in that it has defeated my efforts to find anything that will do me personally any good. The greater part of that education has caused me to study along entirely different lines, in an attempt to bring happiness to me, mine and the rest of the world. I remember to this day how at the age of 8 years I was kept in for not being able to learn the 5th chapter of St. James off by heard; just think of it, only 8 years of age. I left school about the age of 15, having gone through Latin, including five books of Caesar, Ovid, Virgil, etc.; Greek, Xenophon and Greek plays; French, all kinds to conversation; Mathematics, including six books of Euclid, (Geometry), Algebra, to and including quadratic equations. Other boys of my time, if they cared, took German and modern languages half way through their education if they preferred it to the classics, and since coming to Canada, in conversation with Old Country people, find that most of the above subjects were learned before the age of fifteen. In my day, if a boy showed extraordinary ability, he continued his studies to prepare him for entry to the Universities. (Before entering Old Country universities you must know something). In my opinion, in Canada, the teaching of higher grades is given too much preference, to the detriment of the lower grades (where the really necessary education for the average boy or girl must be obtained.) If a better start were given in the beginning in such essentials as Reading, Spelling, Writing and Arithmetic, we should not read such items as appeared recently in a Toronto newspaper, from the pen of an educationist who had made an extensive investigation. He writes "Only 10 per cent. of Canadians can spell, and only 15 per cent. can write in a decent hand."

Mr. Editor:—There is a straight road to happiness as I heard Sir Joshua Stamp say in Calgary, which under our present system of education we cannot follow. Mrs. George draws attention to this indirectly, when she speaks of the "idle rich" from who our our educational system was copied, and we are told by these self same rich that it is "Depression" which is the cause of our trouble, when any man who will use his brains will prove to you that it Is 'Oppression' not 'Depression'. The object of education should be to make our boys and girls fit to take their place in the battle of life, not to turn out a bunch of educated nonentities, who will soon become wards of our country.

More attention should also be given in our schools to physical culture. Sports make brighter and smarter boys and girls.

I infer from Mrs. George's dissertation that work and not idleness should be the aim of all. Being a farmer from choice, I cannot close without mentioning Agriculture, our basic industry, as being a subject which should be given more attention in our schools. How can we live without food; delays are dangerous.

Yours faithfully,
Frank K. Healing.
Morningside, Jan. 8, 1932.

DEATH OF JOHN F. MILLER

John F. Miller, for some years a resident of the Blackfalds district, died at his old Missouri home on Dec. 26th, 1931 at the age of ninety-two years. Deceased was an old Civil War veteran and fought through the troublesome years of the early sixties.

Leaving his home in Germany when a young boy, he took to the sea, and spent seven years as a sailor, finally landing in New York, where he made his home for a time. In 1869, he was married to Henrietta Corkins, of Lowell, Ind. In 1877 he moved with his family to Chariton, Missouri, where he lived until his wife's death in 1904. In 1905 he came to Blackfalds where he resided for fourteen years. Retiring from farming eight years ago, he had until his death made his home with his daughter, Anne, at 602 West Port Road, Kansas City, Mo.

He leaves 10 children, seven sons and three daughters: Dick P. Miller, Fred H. Miller, Jas. A. Miller, and Harvey D. Miller, all of Blackfalds; John F. Miller and Henry F. Miller of Missouri. Mrs. Catherine Parks, Miss Anne Miller and Mrs. C. E. Clark, of Missouri. The funeral was held on December 28th, interment being made beside his wife in the Rothville cemetery, Rothville, Mo.

A GOOD SALE

The first annual sale of livestock, held by MacKenzie Bros., at their ranch near toyn on Friday last was most successful, in fact, one of the best auction sales ever held here. Buyers were in attendance from all over Central Alberta, and the demand for cattle was so brisk that a much greater number could have easily been disposed of. The prices were very good, considering conditions, and it was evident that many of our farmers were on the lookout for good dairy cows. MacKenzie Bros. will make an annual event of this sale, and next year hope to have plenty of good cows and other cattle to supply the ever-increasing demand.

In 1930 the Canadian Pacific Railway paid out in taxes in Canada $7,447,605 and for the year 1931 its taxes will run to over $7,500,000. This brings the company's total tax payments in Canada from its incorporation to date to more than $121,000,000.

B. E., noted lecturer on the promotion of peace, who recently sailed for Great Britain aboard the Duchess of Richmond.
